Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Wednesday 24 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Some rain overnight, then sunnier and colder on Thursday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Showery rain arriving this evening, heaviest across Cornwall and Devon. Drier and clearer conditions moving southwards later in the night, allowing a late dip in temperatures and a local slight ground frost in sheltered rural areas. Showers continuing in Cornwall. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Thursday:
Plenty of autumnal sunshine for most and staying dry with the exception of Cornwall, where occasional showers are possible. Feeling much colder, especially on coasts exposed to the northerly breeze. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Becoming wet and windy on Friday. Very windy on Saturday with gales and showers, wintry over hills. Drier and sunnier on Sunday with much lighter winds but clouding over later.
